Adele Broitman

Artist & Teacher

Adele Broitman was born in Brooklyn, New York, in 1927 and lived in Greenpoint, Brooklyn as a girl. Adele has over sixty years of experience as an artist and teacher. Her background includes a B.F.A. and a Masters Degree in Art Education from the University of Hartford. Since 1960, she has exhibited in many one-woman and group shows, and has studied pottery in Japan with master potters. Adele has instructed children and adults over the years in numerous public schools and colleges and universities, including the Hartford Art School and the Wadsworth Atheneum. In addition to her art school training, Adele has studied with many prominent meditation teachers including Charlotte Selver, Thich Thein Tuong, and has studied Zen and Tibetan Buddhism, and continues to do so. Adele paints every day. Her work is intuitive, and draws upon humor, whimsy, color, and her experience as a woman, the experience of aging, and the many truths to be found along the dharma path.
