By Carolyn Pennington

Painting by Jennifer Chase.

Exhibit: "Coastal Metaphors" – paintings by Jennifer Chase

About the Artist:

Connecticut native Jennifer Chase has traveled throughout New England to reference coastal waterways and capture the innate balance of water, land, and sky in her paintings. Using dramatic color and expansive space to translate her concern for the environment, this exhibit features saltwater marshes and estuaries.

Chase has displayed her paintings in various group exhibitions, including at Gallery One in Dartmouth, Mass., the Chen Gallery in New Britain, and the Bristol Center for Arts and Culture, where she also had a solo exhibition. Her paintings have also been exhibited at Cosi Restaurant and Blue Acorn Studio in West Hartford.

Chase earned her bachelor's in fine arts and art education from the University of Massachusetts in Dartmouth and recently received her master's in art education from Central Connecticut State University in New Britain. Visit www.jenniferlchase.com to view her paintings.
