

Madeline Peralta

About the artist:

New York City resident Madeline Peralta graduated from the La Guardia High School of Music and Art, where she started painting. She earned a bachelor's degree in architecture at Pratt Institute, and studied art at the Student Art League and the Institute of Classical Architecture, all in New York City.

She has exhibited in a number of New York City shows and venues, and her works are in private collections in the United States as well as the Dominican Republic, Taiwan and Italy. Most of her artwork is done outdoors, en plein, and she says her goal is to capture on canvas the energy she sees all around her.

As an architect, she has worked with numerous healthcare institutions, including the Health Center. Peralta says painting has been a continual influence in her architectural work.
