

Louis Mazzotta

1959 LOUIS J. MAZZOTTA, JR., (A&S) of Bloomfield, Conn., recently showed his work in a model home for Still Mountain Estates, a new residential community on the West Hartford/Bloomfield town line.

Louis Mazzotta said his interest in art started when he was 10. "I was able to watch an artist, Alex Fulin, complete a fresco on the "wet" plaster walls in our home. I started drawing soon after when Mom gave me a pad and pencil." The Bloomfield resident is a graduate of the University of Hartford and a founding members of Visions, a gallery without walls.

The artwork on the cover of the April 18 issue of the Hartford Courant's iTowns print publication was done by Louis Mazzotta, an alum of the University's College of Arts and Sciences. Mazzotta, a Bloomfield resident, is a founding member of Visions, a gallery without walls. View his artwork on courant.com.